Figures Baker Case Could Hurt Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Republican senators said today any attempt to choke off a Southern filibuster against the civil rights bill may be imperiled by a no-holds-barred Bobby Baker row.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said one colleague who was leaning toward voting to invoke the debate-limiting cloture rule had told him "he now is unalterably opposed to cloture."

Similarly, Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said some senators now are reluctant to vote for cloture on the civil rights bill because of an interpretation placed on the rules in Thursday's uproar over the Baker case.

Both Scott and Case are supporters of civil rights legislation.

The Baker probe and the embattled civil rights bill were linked in today's Senate session. Agreement was reached to give Case a chance to bring up at some future date the ruling against him.

The complex parliamentary situation came about this way: At Thursday's tumultuous session, the Senate killed, 42-33, a

Bell Extends Facilities in Patmos Area

Southwestern Bell-Arkansas announces an enlargement and extension of its facilities in the Patmos area of the Hope exchange.

The additional lines will make it possible to serve new applicants in the area, will provide for growth, and will be largely enclosed in a new underground cable.

Southwestern Bell manager Don Sappington said the service improvement project will require the expenditure of about $40,000, and completion is scheduled in about two months.

The cable will be 58,000 feet in length, will be weatherproof, and enables these residents to call and be called by all the 4,600 telephones in the nearly 300 square-mile area served by the Hope exchange.

Sappington said Representative Talbot Field, Jr., had been instrumental in working with the applicants and the telephone company on this project.

Actual laying of the cable is expected to start within the near future, Sappington said.

Ten Years After Historic Ruling High Court Is Slated to Make More Decisions

EDITOR'S NOTE—Ten years ago Sunday, the Supreme Court made the historic civil rights ruling that separate educational facilities are inherently unequal. Following is a synopsis of the history the court has been making in that difficult field since—and a look ahead to some expected landmark decisions.

By PAUL M. YOST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten years after its historic decision against racial segregation in public schools, the Supreme Court is due to follow up with more landmark rulings in the difficult civil rights field.

Any Monday before term-closing day in June, the high tribunal may decide the fate of several thousand Negroes and whites arrested for sit-in demonstrations at Southern lunch counters and other private business places.

The troublesome issue that confronts the nine justices is validity, under the Constitution, of the use of state criminal trespass laws to enforce private discrimination.

Equally difficult is a pending case from Prince Edward County in Virginia, where schools were closed in 1959 to avoid court-ordered admission of Negroes to classes.

The justices have been asked to order the county to levy taxes for desegregated schools, and to declare unconstitutional the closing of county schools while public schools elsewhere in Virginia remain open.

The Prince Edward case was one of the original school segregation cases decided by the Supreme Court on May 17, 1954, and some court observers have predicted that the case may be acted on finally next Monday—10 years and a day after the first momentous ruling.

Chief Justice Earl Warren a decade ago pronounced the fateful words that "separate educational facilities are inherently unequal." He declared for a unanimous court that Negroes cannot legally be barred from public schools because of race.

Numerous lawsuits followed in lower federal courts as Negro parents and Negro organizations pressed for compliance with the decree. The Supreme Court mostly let the lower courts struggle with the cases until recently. Then it heard arguments in the Prince Edward case and in another appeal involving Atlanta.

The latter case, also up for decision in May or June, questions the validity of Atlanta's gradual desegregation plan that started from the top down, beginning with the 11th and 12th grades.

While school cases worked as a litigable issue, their way through the lower courts, the high tribunal in the last decade took on and decided numerous disputes in the civil rights field that appeared to be sparked by the 1954 segregation ruling. Time and again final decisions in that field hinged on a basic holding that any activity having a government connection must be open to Negroes and whites without discrimination.

For instance, just a year ago the court called for immediate desegregation of parks, playgrounds and other city recreational facilities in Memphis. The city had pleaded in vain for use of a program of gradual desegregation. Earlier, Atlanta was told to allow Negroes to use its public golf course and Baltimore was directed to allow both races to use public parks and pools.

In a case from Wilmington, Del., the court ordered Negroes admitted to a privately operated restaurant in a state-owned building devoted largely to car parking. Authority of Colorado's antidiscrimination commission to order job-tests for a Negro pilot was upheld and Richmond, Va., was told it could not require Negroes to sit in a special section in its traffic court.

A major victory for campaigners against racial discrimination was a Warren opinion of last May. He declared then that state laws, city ordinances and statements by their officials are totally ineffective to bar Negroes from peaceful sit-in demonstrations in public business places.

The sit-in cases now pending before the court for decision raise the question of what to do about arrests in instances where there are no such laws or statements by public officials.

Another major victory in the efforts to crack segregation barriers was Supreme Court reversal of breach of the peace convictions of 197 Negro students who demonstrated outside the South Carolina State House in Columbia. The court said the convictions infringed the Negroes' constitutional rights of free speech, free assembly and freedom to petition for redress of grievances.

Some observers saw the Columbia decision as opening the flood gates for numerous street demonstrations in various states in recent months.

Apparently out of patience over arrests of Negroes under local laws affecting transportation, the high court had this to say:

"We have settled beyond question that no state may require racial segregation of interstate or intrastate transportation facilities. The question is no longer open; it is foreclosed as a litigable issue."

Pair Loves New York Home But Has to Escape From the Shadow of the World's Fair

By KEN HARTNETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. G. loves her home in Flushing, N.Y. Her neighbors couldn't be nicer, and there is that lovely little rose garden in the back yard.

She loves it especially in the summer when she can while away the hours amid the roses while her grandchildren play nearby.

But this summer Mrs. G. and her husband, Tony, will be far away, perhaps in San Francisco. They haven't decided where just yet.

They are certain of just one thing: They must escape from under the shadow of the New York World's Fair in Flushing Meadows.

"It is a matter of survival," explained Mrs. G. "We just couldn't live through another 1939 and if we stay in Queens, it will begin all over again."

What happened in 1939 was another New York World's Fair in Queens. The new one is even bigger.

"We had only Angela then. She was 3. We had only a three-room apartment in Brooklyn. It wasn't much but it was nice enough for our needs. Then Lou came to New York to see the fair."

"Lou is Tony's brother from Chicago. He's a regular guy full of fun and Tony likes him a lot. He's always playing little jokes like putting the sugar in the salt cellar or taking the screws out of the handle to the refrigerator."

"Well, Lou stays about a week and then he goes back to Chicago and we just about have our little home back to normal when this man and woman come to the door. They tell us they are second cousins from Chicago and Lou told them how much he enjoyed staying with us and that we would be happy to have them stay too.

"Now this girl was expecting, you know, and I didn't have the heart to send her to a hotel. So Tony went out and bought an army cot and who do you think slept on it all summer? Tony and me. I was a little slimmer then, you understand."

"So this young couple stayed for two weeks, and when they left there was another knock on the door. This time it was second cousins on Tony's mother's side."

"What could we do? We couldn't slam the door in their faces and have them go back to Chicago and tell Lou and have Lou think that his own brother had no family feeling. So they stayed."

"Most of the relatives were very nice, but there was this one third cousin that kept telling me I didn't know how to cook minestrone and the just had to have minestrone every day. She and her husband stayed for two weeks. Every day they would go out to the fair and come home just in time for supper and to tell me how to cook my minestrone."

"So this year when Lou sent us a letter saying he was coming this summer to visit the fair I wrote right back to him and

Lodge Favored, Oregon Sees a Record Vote

By WALTER R. MEARS

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Oregon's Republican free-for-all—a presidential primary election with six candidates and one campaigner—is being settled today.

Election officials forecast a record GOP turnout of about 265,000 voters.

And public opinion pollsters predicted more of them would vote for Henry Cabot Lodge than for any of the other five contenders.

But their election-eve samplings indicated the Lodge lead was tapering off from the wide margin they had forecast earlier.

In the face of those predictions, the Lodge campaign forces stepped up their telephone and person-to-person bid for the victory they hope to couple with the absentee ambassador's write-in triumph in New Hampshire two months ago.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—the only candidate who did his own campaigning—cyed the last-minute polls and declared: "Mr. Lodge is the man to stop in Oregon. I would be very happy to make substantial gains."

Postmaster Robert M. Wilson Dies

R. M. Wilson

Robert Manton Wilson, aged 69, a lifelong resident of Hempstead County, died early today in a local hospital. He was an Elder of the First Presbyterian Church and postmaster here for the past 30 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Virginia Reed Wilson; a daughter, Mrs. Russell B. Cornell of Midland, Texas, a granddaughter, Julia Todd Cornell; two brothers, Dr. Paul W. Wilson of Little Rock and Capt. Tom Dwight Wilson of Honolulu; two sisters, Mrs. Herbert Huntington of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Robert LaGrone of Hope.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Saturday at First Presbyterian Church by Dr. L. T. Lawrence. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Active pallbearers: Crit Stuart, Jr., D. Duffie Booth, Fred Ellis, Vincent Foster, Dorsey McRae, Bill Tolleson, Bin McRae and Frank McLarty. Officiaries will be elders and deacons of the Presbyterian Church and postal employees.

Pre-School Registration for Yerger

Tuesday, May 19, will be pre-registration day for all students who are entering Shover Street, Hopewell and Fulton Elementary Schools in September for their first year of school attendance.

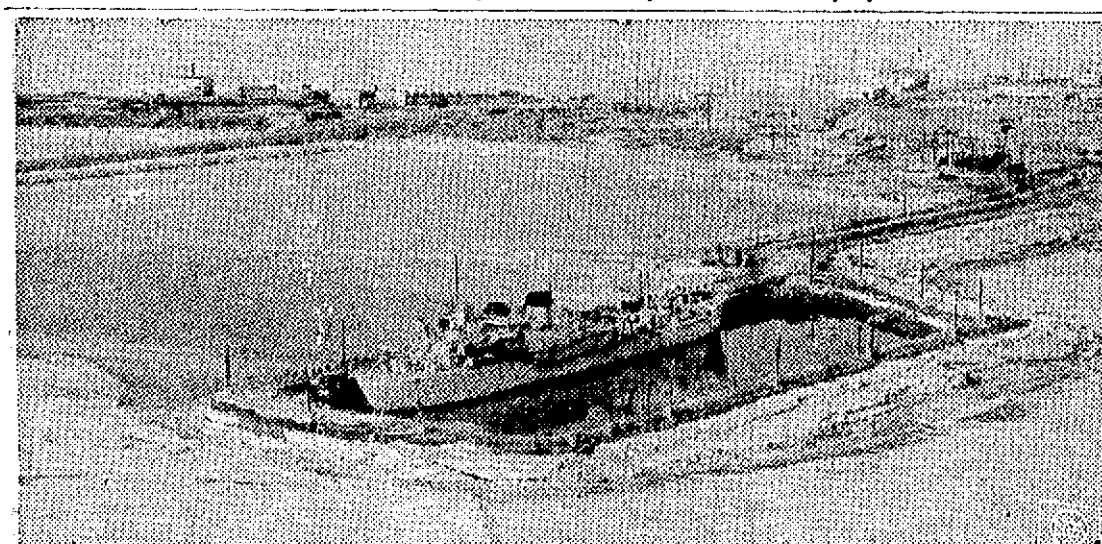

All parents will please register their six year old children at this time. Only children who will be six years old on or before October 1, 1964 are eligible to attend school.

This will help the school in buying books and setting up the instructional program for the next term. If you do not have a birth certificate now is the time you should begin applying for it. Your cooperation is urgently requested in this program.

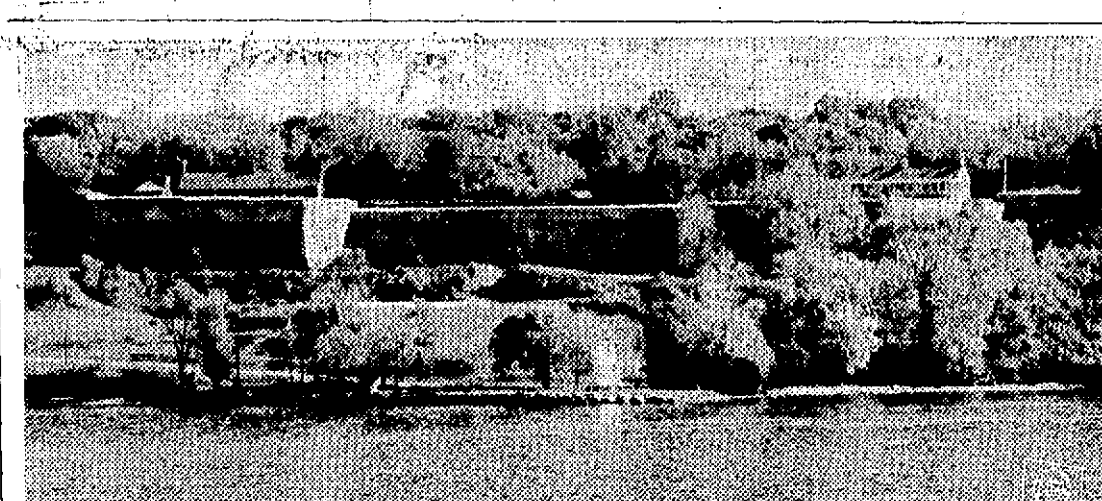

WILL SPEAK ANYWAY — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, the indirect enforcer of integration of Little Rock, Arkansas' Central High School in 1957, will speak at 3 p.m. Saturday on the steps of the school despite a ban by the Little Rock School Board. Walker left, is shown outside Central High School Sept. 25, 1957 with Col. William A. Kuhn, then commander of the 327th Airborne Battle Group which was deployed at the school.

ALL BOXED IN—This big ship, a supplier of power and steam to Greenland's Thule Air Base, couldn't go anywhere even if its captain wanted it to. Anchored at its own private dock, the ship is completely surrounded by ice up to five feet thick. But total output of all ship facilities is enough to meet the power needs of a city of 50,000 population. And that's why it's icebound.

Leaders Meet to Plan More Viet Nam Aid

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress met today with President Johnson and the National Security Council to be backgrounded on forthcoming proposals to expand the American commitment in South Viet Nam.

The session lasted an hour and 20 minutes. The fact that congressional leaders were present was not disclosed until after the conference ended.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, announced that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara briefed the meeting on his inspection trip to Saigon—a journey that led McNamara to conclude that the United States must furnish additional economic and military aid, and perhaps more troops, for South Viet Nam.

"I think it rather obvious there will be a need for additional funds and some appropriate recommendations," Reedy said. "There will be recommendations at an early date."

The press secretary said administration proposals for helping to counter stepped-up guerrilla attacks in South Viet Nam have yet to be drafted "in specific terms."

Earlier it was learned that the United States will increase the new striking power planned for the Youth Vietnamese air

SS Data for Our Senior Citizens

Otis A. Blackwood, social security district manager at Texarkana, noted today that May has been proclaimed "Senior Citizens Month."

"One of the major areas of the public welfare still needing additional consideration," he said "is that of the problems of our aging population."

Since 1900 the population of the United States has more than doubled, but the number of people 45 years of age and older has nearly quadrupled. Workers 45 and older now make up two-fifths of the labor force.

The growing proportion of persons over 65 is even more marked. Since 1900, the number of persons 65 and older has increased five times. The proportion of those 65 and older was 4 percent in 1900; it will be 10 percent in 1980. Locally, over 12 percent of our population are "Senior Citizens."

Mr. Blackwood noted that while progress has been made in the fields of special housing, medical and hospital care, recreation, and work opportunities, there is still much to be done. He called on every citizen to take an active interest in the problems of the aged. "After all," he said, "almost all of us will someday have to face them."

Information on local aging activities is available by telephoning or dropping into your social security office, 121 College Drive, Texarkana, Texas. Telephone 792-2735.

Matter of Fact

The 75 additional Skyraider dive bombers now due in South Viet Nam this summer will be boosted to more than 100, informed sources told The Associated Press.

Coupled with this, U.S. advisers will step up the tempo and scope of training to double the present 400 Vietnamese pilots and channel the best of them into flying the propeller-driven attack planes.

Vietnamese flyers already are piloting single-seat Skyraiders and T28 converted trainers in bombing and strafing attacks on Communist guerrillas. They also are operating certain kinds of transports, light reconnaissance planes and helicopters.

The objective of the expanded U.S. effort in this area is to get more of the Vietnamese to fly combat missions and thus to enable U.S. Air Force pilots, in Viet Nam for training chores, to stay out of the fighting as much as possible.

Informants said this is the meaning of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement Thursday that it is desirable to increase by 100 per cent the number of Vietnamese pilots and to strengthen further the Vietnamese Air Force.

"This will be done very promptly," McNamara said at the White House after returning from Saigon and reporting to President Johnson.

The defense secretary also spoke of the need to increase South Viet Nam's regular and paramilitary forces "very substantially and very soon" and of other steps to protect the peasant population from more active Communist terrorism.

The defense secretary's remark that it may be necessary to send over certain additional U.S. personnel to expand the training of the beefed-up Vietnamese forces is in line with what he has said in the past.

But, once again, McNamara made it plain that U.S. policy is to bring home U.S. trainers when their job is done—for example, to withdraw specialists in aircraft maintenance when the Vietnamese have learned to handle the job themselves.

Asks Court to Reverse Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Harry C. Palmer Jr. of near Harrisburg asked the Arkansas Supreme Court Thursday to reverse a circuit court ruling that injuries received in a plane crash June 7, 1962, were not covered by an insurance policy.

Palmer, a crop duster pilot, said he paid $1,724 in medical bills because of the crash. He sued Standard Life and Accident Insurance Co.

The accident occurred two miles south of Waldenburg.

Rockefeller said a powerful showing in Oregon would help his cause in California's June 2 primary, where he and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater meet head on, with no write-in votes permitted.

"The results in one state influence the people in another state and that is what happened after the New Hampshire primary," he said.

Rockefeller said it will take "a massive effort to break through" and beat Goldwater in California. Unless he does, Rockefeller added, Goldwater will be hard to stop at the Republican National Convention.

Figures Baker

Republican move to extend the investigation of the outside business dealings of Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, and to broaden it to bring senators specifically within its scope.

Before the vote, Case contended that Majority Leader Mike Mansfield had violated a Senate rule by imputing to him conduct unworthy of a senator. Mansfield denied it and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, presiding, ruled that Mansfield had not violated the rule.

Case shouted he was appealing the chair's ruling and insisted his appeal was debatable. But Kennedy, after consultation with the Senate parliamentarian, held the time allotted for debating the Baker probe resolution had run out and ordered a vote.

As a result, several senators expressed concern that their rights under the rules may be lost if the Senate is operating under a fixed limit on the time for debate such as cloture would provide.

Under cloture, each senator's speaking time on the bill and all amendments would be limited to one hour.

Sessions next Tuesday may determine whether a vote on limiting debate will be necessary to get a vote on the civil rights bill itself.

That's when Republican leaders try to sell their rank and file a package of amendments they think will give the bill a better chance for passage. Until then, there isn't likely to be any dramatic break in routine, with Southern foes continuing to hammer at the bill's lack of a guaranteed trial by jury for those convicted of criminal contempt.

Democrats, minus the South-erners, may meet the same day to talk over the proposed package of amendments by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Mays Again Held, Houston Whips Giants

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Say Hey, look what Bob Bruce did!

Bruce held Willie Mays hitless for the first time in 21 games, setting the San Francisco slugger down four times Thursday night and slicing Mays' average 19 points to .449 as the Houston Colts defeated the National League-leading Giants 4-3.

It was the first time Mays had been held hitless since April 16, when he was stopped by St. Louis' Curt Simmons in the third game of the season.

While Mays was having his first difficult night in almost a month, the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs 6-4 in 10 innings and 5-0, but ace left-hander Sandy Koufax again failed to turn in a strong performance.

Koufax was unable to finish for the third straight game and was clipped for four runs in four innings of the opener. Don Drysdale, however, turned in a brilliant effort in the nightcap for the Dodgers, winning his fifth straight complete game with a four-hitter for a 5-1 record.

Elsewhere, Richie Allen homered in the seventh inning for Philadelphia in 3-2 victory over St. Louis and the New York Mets drubbed Milwaukee 12-4. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

In the American League, Minnesota clobbered the Chicago White Sox 15-7. Detroit belted the New York Yankees 7-3 and Baltimore defeated Washington 4-1.

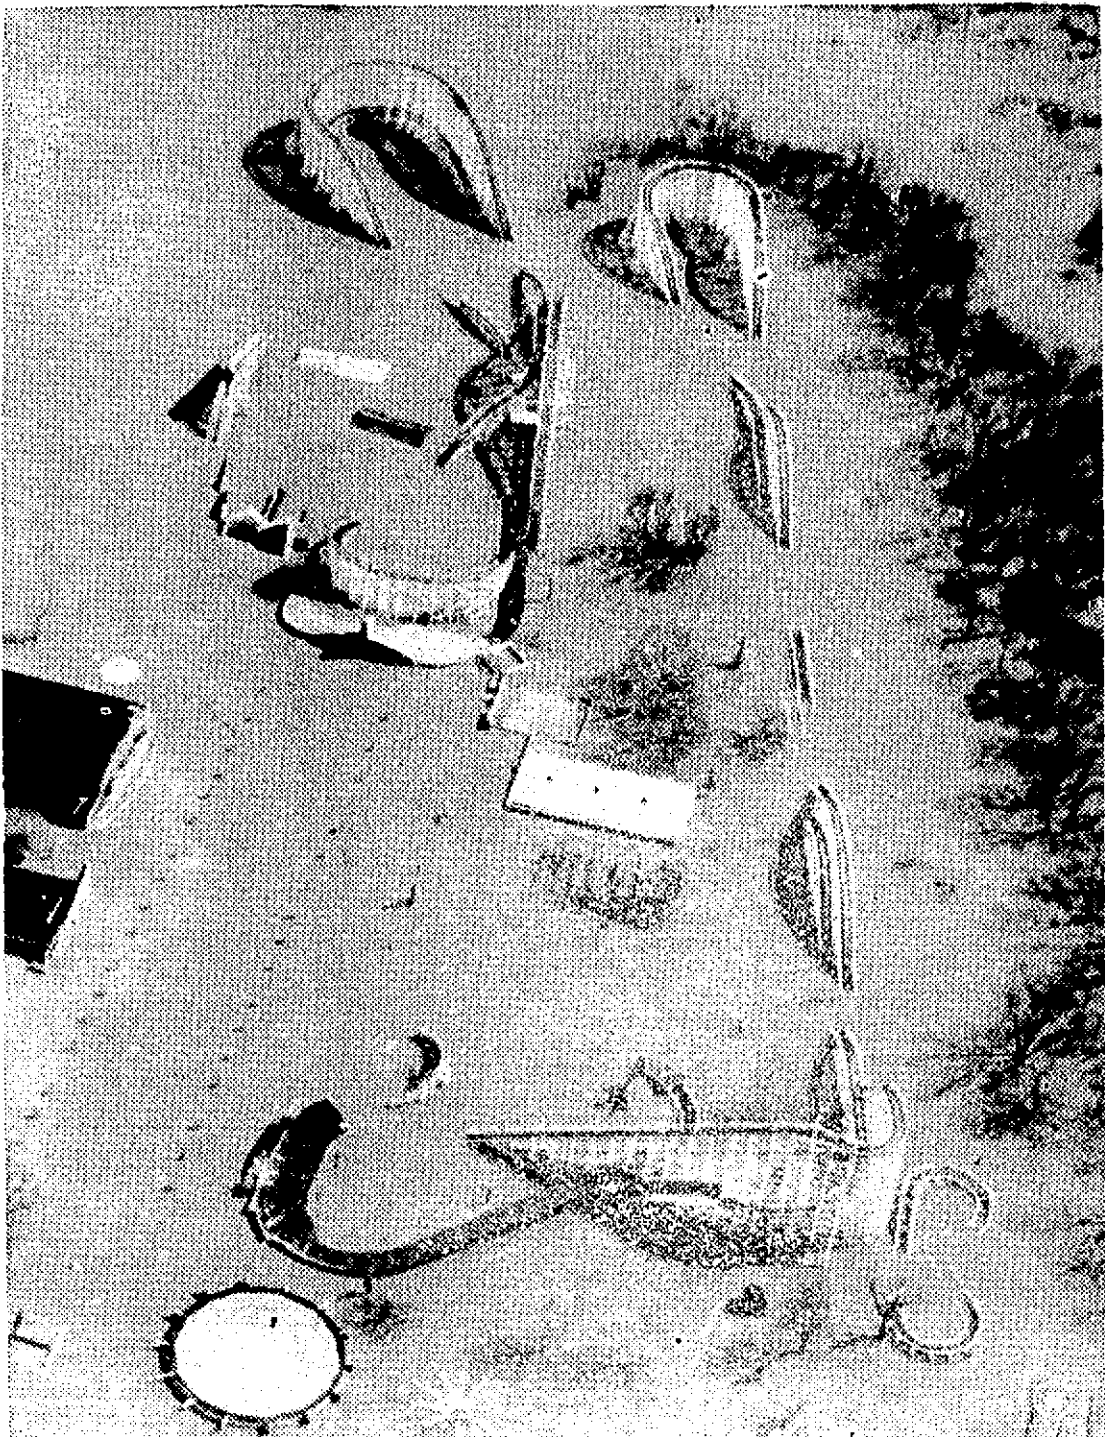

Bruce, who brought his record to 4-1 with ninth-inning relief help from Hal Woodeshick, was tagged for a two-run triple in the sixth inning by Tom Haller and went into the seventh trailing 3-2.

The Colts tied it when Bob Shaw was touched for singles by Eddie Kasko and Nellie Fox before forcing in a run by walking Al Spangler and Walt Bond. When Shaw walked John Bate-man in the eighth, Billy Pierce came on, but it was too late. Singles by Kasko and Spangler got the winning run home.

The Cubs bolted to a 4-0 lead against the Dodgers in the first game, three runs scoring on Ron Santo's homer. The Dodgers caught up in the eighth on Jim Gilliam's homer and won it in the 10th when Tommy Davis singled and Frank Howard hit his 11th homer.

In the nightcap, the Dodgers provided Drysdale with a 3-0 lead in the first two innings, cashing in on four stolen bases and five walks by Fred Norman. Davis stole three bases. Ernie Broglio was pitching a two-hit shutout for the Cardinals when the Phillies tied the score in the sixth with two runs. Singles by Tony Taylor and Allen plus two grounders got one run across before John Herrnstein singled in another. Allen's homer then won it for Jim Bunning, now 1-1 with the aid of Ed Roebuck's relief help.

The Mets stroked 15 hits against Braves' starter Warren Spahn and three successors. Dick Smith slammed three key doubles for New York while Ron Hunt also chipped in with three hits. Spahn, now 2-3, left in the fifth inning after Joe Christopher tagged a homer. The score was the Mets' highest of the season.

CREATURE FROM THE BLACK LAGOON?—The French might call it trompe-l'oeil—an eye-fooler—and the Scottish might call it an American version of the Loch Ness monster. But residents of Cincinnati, Ohio, know exactly what it is: the half-submerged roller coaster at a nearby amusement park. The scene was created by the swollen Ohio River, which crested at about 66 feet.

Twins Win and Detroit Stops New York

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Vic Power used to be Minnesota's starting first baseman. Along came outfielder Tony Oliva, and Power was the Twins' No. 2 first baseman. Now comes Don Mincher, and Power again may be a starting first baseman—for some other team.

Mincher's recent slugging feats have made the veteran Power even more expendable than he had been when Oliva's presence forced outfielder Bob Allison to first base.

Mincher hit his fourth home run in five games Thursday as Minnesota clobbered the Chicago White Sox, 15-7.

Power probably is the best defensive first baseman in the American League. But rookie Oliva is hitting even better than expected while sluggers Allison, Jimmie Hall and Harmon Killebrew are producing at their usual home run pace.

Now, with Mincher acting as if he wants in on a good thing, Twins' Manager Sam Mele finds himself with five power hitters for four positions. That doesn't leave much room for Power, who conceivably could bring Minnesota a badly needed pitcher in a trade.

The 25-year-old Mincher trails Hall 9, Allison 9 and Oliva 7 in home runs, but he's tied with Killebrew at six each. His .356 batting average is second only to Oliva's .414 for the Twins.

The first baseman has hit three of his last four homers with two runners on base. His blast Thursday, one of six for the Twins, was good for three runs.

Only two other games were played in the AL. Washington downed Baltimore 4-1 and Detroit halted New York 7-3.

In the National League, Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Chicago 6-4 and 5-0. Philadelphia edged St. Louis 3-2. Houston nipped San Francisco 4-3 and New York trounced Milwaukee 12-4.

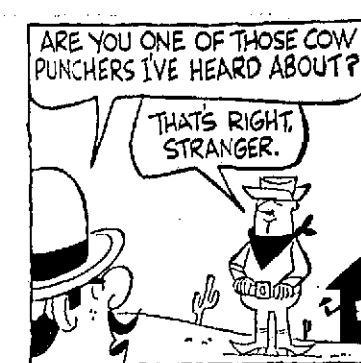

Killebrew clouted two homers for the Twins, one with two men aboard. Allison, Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles also connected against the White Sox.

Rollins wound up driving in five runs, three on his fifth homer and two on a double.

Minnesota now has slammed 51 homers in 26 games, a rate that would give the Twins a major league record of 318 at the end of the season. The New York Yankees hold the record of 240.

DALE, Ind. (AP) — Pitcher Don Kirkland of Chrisney High School struck out 22 batters in a seven-inning baseball game with Oakland City Thursday in

Despite the Twins' onslaught against Gary Peters and Eddie Fisher, starter Gerry Arrigo was forced from the game in the fifth inning after Chicago got to him for five runs and nine hits. Tom McCraw hit a two-run homer for the White Sox in the ninth.

Don Zimmer cracked a grand slam home run for all of Washington's runs as the Orioles' Robin Roberts suffered his second setback in three decisions.

Buster Narum held Baltimore to four hits in winning his third game against one defeat.

Detroit trailed the Yankees 3-2 going into the seventh. Then the Tigers erupted for five runs after two were out. Don Wert singled home the tying run, and Steve Hamilton's wild pitch with the bases loaded sent home the deciding tally.

The Tigers added three runs on singles by Dick McAuliffe and George Thomas.

All Baseball Fans Agog About Mays

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays' early season attack on Roger Maris' home-run record and his threat to become the first in 23 years to hit .400 has the baseball fans agog.

But none are as excited about Mays' batting feats as Willie himself. The brilliant San Francisco Giant center fielder is thrilled by it all, but he is fighting a battle within himself to prevent his true feelings from cropping out.

A wonderfully cooperative person, Mays has to use utmost restraint from being rude as he parries questions hurled at him concerning his chances of finishing with a .400 batting average. Or his chances of bettering Maris' 61 home runs over the course of a 162-game season.

"I'm not saying anything but not anything," Willie backed off when the suggestion was made to him that he could be the first since Ted Williams in 1941 to hit .400.

Mays' true nature, however, came to the fore.

"I'm like this," he said, "If I'm going to break a record, please don't tell me. If I'm thinking about doing something real bad, I won't do it. Someone comes up to me and says, 'If you get a hit today, it will be your 2,000th.' You can bet I won't get the hit."

"Don't tell me things like that. Just let me go and play. Don't tell me nothing and I don't think about it and then I do it."

Through the Giants' first 21 games, Mays had a batting average of .481 with 11 home runs. No one in years had gotten off to as fast a start. How long did he think he could keep that up?

"Amazing, ain't it?" he said and laughed. "But it won't last. But I'd sure like to keep it going for a little while longer. I'm not doing anything different, but somehow the ball looks bigger coming into the plate. It always does look bigger when you're hitting."

There is another explanation although Mays is reluctant to talk about it. At 33 and with 12 full seasons behind him, Willie opened this season in his best frame of mind since his rookie year as the laughing Say-Hey kid of 20 in 1951.

It isn't so much that he's smarter and more experienced although that could be one of the underlying reasons. But, for the first time in years, Mays is playing without the weight of marital or financial troubles on his mind.

It is two years since Willie's divorce became final. He had to borrow on his $100,000 salary from the Giants, and it took another year for Mays to dig out from his financial morass.

"I've got real peace of mind now," Mays said. "The way I feel right now, as far as my health and frame of mind are concerned, I think I can go on playing for another 10 years."

FLORIDA SHORT CUT—At present the main shipping lanes across or around Florida are the Okeechobee Waterway in southern Florida and the open-water route around Key West. On February 28th, President Johnson pushed a button that got a new cross-Florida waterway under way. Authorized by Congress in 1942, the waterway will be 12 feet deep and 150 feet wide. It will be 107 miles long, from St. Johns River at Palatka to deep water in the Gulf of Mexico near Yankeetown. The waterway will be dotted with five locks so that Florida's ground water will not be affected. Small Newsmag gives close-up view of the project. The larger map illustrates its overall importance as the missing link in the Intracoastal Waterway System.

"DEAR ABBY"

END IT—NOW!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: I am involved with a married man. We love each other deeply and have for many years. We know our relationship is wrong, but we have always been very discreet as I wouldn't hurt his family for the world. In the beginning we agreed not to disrupt his family, but now he has started to talk of divorcing his wife to marry me. Abby, I can't let that happen. His wife recently had a change-of-life baby, and she couldn't manage without him. He is financially unable to support two families. How can I make him see that he has to stick with his family without losing him completely? He's the only man I have ever loved.

DISTRESSED

Dear Distressed: As long as you continue to see him, you are encouraging him to leave his family for you. It is more painful to cut off a puppy's tail an inch at a time. End the relationship in one clean break. It will be painful to both of you, but if you allow this affair to continue on any basis, two innocent families could suffer from your selfishness.

Dear Abby: I am 18 years old and I dress like a lady, act like a lady and expect to be treated like one. Recently, while shopping in a supermarket, I pulled my cart into the first aisle when one smart checker snapped his fingers at me and said, "Next aisle!" There was no checker there, so I asked, "Where is the checker?" He barked, "KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON!" The checker never did come, so I was ordered back in the first aisle. As I was emptying my basket, he snapped his fingers at me again and said, "Tax items first, sister." Then he started throwing my food around, so I said "Don't throw that food around—we have to eat it." He asked who I thought I was, and I told him I was a cash customer, that's who I WAS. Then a man who looked like the manager walked by and said, "Hold down the noise, please, Miss." Do you think I do you think I should let it go, should let it go, or should I go to the higher authorities and demand an apology? This is a big chain store market.

DEMANDS RESPECT

Dear Demands: No. There must be another market in your neighborhood where the service is more civil and super than at this one. Try it.

Dear Abby: My sister and I had a serious falling out four years ago over some lies she spread about me, and I haven't spoken to her since. I just learned that she has an incurable disease and can't last more than a year. Her husband plans to keep it from her as long as possible. Abby, I want to make up with her, and help to make her last months happier by doing what I can for her and her family. I am afraid if I suddenly go to her and offer my friendship, she will suspect the truth about herself. Yet, I don't want her to leave this world thinking I never forgave her. What should I do?

TORN

Dear Törn: Go to her and offer her your friendship. It is not unusual for relatives to "bury the hatchet" during times of illness.

Dear Abby: I feel sorry for the woman whose husband never remembers her birthday. My husband never forgets mine. He wouldn't dare. His is the next day, and he always gets me a nice present so he'll be sure of getting one himself. Sincerely,

ETHEL

Dancer and Hill Rise Meet Again

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Northern Dancer and Hill Rise, the David and Goliath of horse racing's 3-year-old division, meet again Saturday in the 88th running of the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico with every indication of a repeat of their Kentucky Derby stretch duel.

Northern Dancer, a mighty mile from Canada, won the Derby in record time of two minutes flat for 1 1/4 miles. He covered the last quarter in 24 seconds.

Hill Rise, the California-owned flash, also was under the old Derby record and ran the final one-quarter mile in 23 2/5 seconds but lost the decision by a neck.

Four other sharply trained thoroughbreds — The Scoundrel, Roman Brother, Quadrangle and Big Pete — will oppose the fearsome twosome in the 1 3/16 mile race before a crowded house of 30,000 and a national television audience.

Post time is 4:45 p.m. EST, with television and radio, CBS, scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

The four go into the second leg of the Triple Crown, which includes the Derby and Belmont, with fine credentials except for one thing — all but Big Pete were badly beaten by Northern Dancer in the Derby.

Big Pete didn't start in the Derby and in the words of his trainer, Bernie Bond, the Preakness distance figures to be too much for this speed-loving son of Degag owned by Mrs. Harriet N. Ball off Falls Church, Va.

Hill Rise, carrying the hopes of George A. Pope Jr.'s El Peco Ranch, has been made the 7-5 choice just as he was in the Derby, with Northern Dancer from E. P. Taylor's Windfields Farm second in the line at 2-1. It wouldn't be surprising to see them go off at close to 10-1 choices.

The Dancer gained his advantage in the Derby when jockey Bill Hartack found a hole five-eighths of a mile from the finish and shot the nimble son of Nearctic into a quick lead.

Backers of Hill Rise figured that Willie Shoemaker will not let Hartack get such an advantage this time since the field is

May Well Be Best Canadian Center

MONTREAL (AP)—Big Jean Beliveau may well be the Montreal Canadiens' best center since the great Howie Morenz. He definitely is the most honored.

Beliveau won the Hart Trophy the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player emblem, for the second time Thursday. He is the only Canadian player except Morenz to win the trophy twice, although eight others have been named MVP since the original trophy was donated much smaller and the El Peco colt will have plenty of room to stretch his long legs.

With six starters, the race will have a gross value of $176,700. The winner will get $124,200. To make it worthwhile for the others, $30,000 goes to the second-place finisher, $15,000 to third and $7,500 to fourth.

In the draw for places in the starting gate, Big Pete got No. 1 with Roman Brother No. 2, Quadrangle No. 3, Northern Dancer No. 4, the Scoundrel No. 5 and Hill Rise on the outside.

The forecast is for clear and warm with a fast track.

Arrested for Unlawful Flight

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Larry Taylor, 18, of Odessa, Tex., was arrested here Wednesday on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

The FBI said Taylor was wanted for the attempted burglary of the Gruver, Tex., State Bank.

Four persons used an acetylene torch the weekend of April 18-19 in an unsuccessful attempt to get into the bank vault, the FBI said. The torch was left in the bank.

Taylor was arraigned on the unlawful flight charge, transported to Little Rock, and held for Texas authorities in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Two other persons have been arrested in the case, and authorities are seeking a fourth.

Morenz won in 1928, 1930 and 1931. Beliveau's first time as MVP was in 1956, early in his big league career.

Runner-up in the Hart Trophy was Bobby Hull of Chicago with 58 points while Detroit's Gordie Howe, who has taken the trophy six times, was third with 50.

Torres Is Favored to Beat McClure

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres is a 13-20 favorite to whip Skeeter McClure, an old buddy and fellow Olympian, in the middleweight television fight at Madison square Garden tonight.

The 10-rounder will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV. Starting time is 9 p.m., EST.

They have been good friends since the Puerto Rican-born Torres won a narrow, disputed decision over the tall, Toledo boxer in the National Golden Gloves final in 1958.

"We're friends but it won't mean a thing when we get into the ring," said Torres, now a New Yorker.

"Some of your hardest and best fights have been between good friends," said McClure, a teaching graduate of the University of Toledo.

McClure won the Olympic light-middleweight crown at Rome in 1960 when he was a teammate of Cassius Clay. Clay captured the light-heavyweight gold medal.

Torres won a silver medal in the light middleweight class at the 1956 games in Melbourne. He lost a split decision in the final to Laszlo Papp, who now is the undefeated European middleweight pro champion.

As a pro Torres, 28, has a 29-1-2 record, including 22 knockouts. McClure, 25, has a 16-2 record, including seven knockouts.

El Dorado Seeks Technical School

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The El Dorado Chamber of Commerce has voted to ask for one of the two vocational technical schools will be located in the state later this year.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who said he hopes three or four can be built this year, said one of the schools should go to the Southwest and one to the Northeast parts of the State.

Such schools are now in operation at Pine Bluff and Morrilton. Lee Roy Beasley, chamber president, said his group would apply formally for the school. Negotiations for a site for the school are under way, he said.

How to win at shadow tag

As a youngster, perhaps you too enjoyed the game of shadow tag. What fun it was in the late afternoon, when shadows were long and easy to catch. As we recall, there was a way of winning at shadow tag. As long as the one who was "it" was kept between you and the sun, he never got close enough to your shadow for a tag. If the real you got caught, so did your shadow.

We got to thinking about this game the other day, during a discussion of circulation and how many different ways there are to "determine" the size of a circulation audience for advertising. You can multiply units of circulation by units of people and maybe you will get reader audience. Studies and surveys can produce age, sex, income, and all sorts of other factors which, when multiplied by units of circulation, might give you other kinds of audience figures.

No matter how it is figured, a circulation audience can never be more reliable than the circulation figures from which the shadow is projected. While the size and shape of the shadow changes in the light of varying points of interest, the child at tag and the circulation under study remains the same.

We believe it is our obligation, as a seller of the commodity of advertising space, to provide you with complete and accurate circulation figures. We believe in full disclosure of circulation facts, based on uniform standards, permitting close examination from any point of interest. We believe, further, that such facts and figures should come not from us or our agents, but from an independent, objective circulation measuring and reporting service.

That's why the Audit Bureau of Circulations was organized 50 years ago, and why more than 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers support this voluntary, self-regulatory effort today. That's why we are ABC members.

Come to think of it, we never were much good at shadow tag. Just ask to see a copy of our latest ABC report—it will let you tag the real us.

This Bird is Determined

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A determined female cardinal bird is holding up sale of more than $400 worth of young oak trees by a nursery.

The cardinal built a nest in one of the trees in a bath house, and Harold Dodd, the nurseryman, said Thursday the entire shipment of oaks couldn't be moved until the cardinal's eggs are hatched and the young birds learn to fly.

The process is expected to take about two more weeks. "I love birds," Dodd said.

XXIX

Malcolm had had a telephone call from Gregory Neville earlier that afternoon.

"Hello? Hello?" Neville's voice had been a jovial shout; it was as if he hoped to triumph over an uncertain connection by sheer volume.

"I'm in Marbella, on my way to Gibraltar. It's been a lovely holiday. I enjoyed Spain thoroughly."

"That's fine."

"I couldn't resist ringing you up. Driving along the coastal road, I came on the answer to your problem. Getting them into Spain, remember? That's where we ran dry, wasn't it?"

"Yes."

"Very well. I'll give you a hint. Then let's see if you can work the rest out for yourself. Go to the beach early tomorrow morning and have a good look about. If nothing clicks, ring me at the Queens Hotel in Gibraltar and I'll put you onto a solution to your problem. Fair enough?"

"Yes, of course."

"Then if you don't ring me in Gibraltar, I'll know you saw exactly what I did, and that you're homeward bound with a steady win in the sails. All the best, old man."

When Malcolm put down the receiver he decided to walk up into the hills and take some photographs.

Now, drenched and tired, he started across the plaza to the street which curved down to his pension. But he stopped when he saw a familiar blue Porsche parked behind the local bus, which was slowly ingesting a sudden queue of passengers for Malaga.

He walked over to the car and rapped on the rolled-up window. Through the streaming glass he could see the blurred outline of Karl Webber's handsome, blond head.

Karl cracked the window down and looked up at him with a smile.

"It is good to see you," Karl said, shouting the words as if he were trying to make himself heard over the roar of a storm rather than a drizzle of rain. He smiled widely and pointed to the empty seat behind him.

"Willie is in the shop buying some wine and sausage for our trip."

"You're going away?"

"Back to work, I regret to say," Karl's smile was rueful, and he shrugged with an air of philosophical resignation. "We intended to write you from Frankfurt. After all your cooperation, we didn't wish to disappear like smoke in a wind. We are most grateful to you. But here is Willie! He will be pleased to see you."

Willie had appeared in the doorway of a shop carrying a large paper sack from which the neck of a wine bottle protruded at a jaunty angle. "We are returning to Frankfurt. It is lucky we have this chance to say auf Wiedersehen."

"Yes, Karl told me you are leaving," Malcolm said. "But I'm curious to know what you learned about me. What was the result of all those tests?"

"I'm afraid there wasn't time to organize and analyze the data properly," Willie said. "In Frankfurt, we will be able to use our computers and get immediate results."

"You mean you discovered nothing at all?"

"We did come to a conclusion about you," Willie said. "But it is quite tentative. Perhaps it is only an opinion. This is why we thought at first it would be wiser not to discuss it with you. It's difficult to put such matters in simple terms."

"As you know, we attempted to draw a quick and accurate profile of your personality. To cast light on your hidden fears and needs. The results were quite—"

Willie paused, glanced appealingly at Karl, then sighed and shrugged helplessly. "They were quite unexpected. To describe what we discovered about you, without shadings or nuance, I must rely on examples, images. Your responses are so uncharacteristically balanced that they completely contradict one another. Instead of emotional stresses and strains, your mind presents us with a picture of quite logical, quite orderly chaos."

"The relationships are meaningless," Karl said, almost angrily. "The picture we drew of you was blank, absolutely blank." He pressed his fingers to his temples, and shook his head as if he were in pain.

"We cast a light on your inner needs and desires, and the light reveals nothing. There is the chance we're wrong, you understand. That is why I didn't want to tell you these things. I haven't been able to sleep thinking of them. But Willie thought you had the strength to understand." Karl struck his forehead with the palm of his hand. "But how can he know? There is nothing to know."

Politicians Distort True Condition

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The political furor tends either to hide or distort the business perplexities which also may be resolved this summer. And these largely nonpolitical issues can set the pattern for the income you may expect and the prices you may find on the goods and services you want.

The party campaigns are being waged against a background of general prosperity and growing confidence. At the midpoint in the second quarter of the year the majority of reports show the economy at new heights with good chances of going still higher if —

The ifs can be important. And some should become clear before election time.

On the income side there are new wage patterns to be hammered out this summer, with chief interest centered on the auto industry.

Washington is trying hard to get both labor and management to follow what it calls guidelines. Primarily they preach moderation. Washington wants labor to ask for pay increases that won't upset the balance of production costs and prices. And it wants management to resist any wage demands that would force price increases and cancel out the benefits from the cut in federal income taxes.

Labor is well aware that many corporations are reporting record profits along with rising sales.

Management spokesmen are busily pointing out that profits should go still higher if new capital is to be attracted for the financing of business expansion to meet the goals of economic growth.

Many business men feel that as soon as competition permits, or when production costs mount again, prices must go up to provide adequate profit margins on sales.

Another mystery also is expected to be solved before autumn. This is how the consumer will finally react to the federal tax cut savings. So far he has been spending the new money moderately, saving some of it, using the rest to pay up old debts. If the consumer starts spending a lot more by fall, the pressure to hammer out sizable wage increases and to raise prices to meet the higher payroll will build up.

At issue is the possibility of another round of inflation. There is little sign of it at the second quarter's midpoint. There could be plenty of signs by election time.

Exiles Hope to Return to Homeland

By JOE MCKNIGHT

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP)—Fernando A. Mata speaks English reasonably well but has trouble reading it.

Roberto Ravelo can understand English better than he speaks it.

Dr. Jose Morell, like all his fellow Cubans here, hopes some day to return to his island nation.

The three are among 25 Cubans taking part in a high-level rehabilitation program at Kansas State Teachers College. All were professionals in law, medicine or education before fleeing Fidel Castro's regime.

Different requirements and standards prevent them from continuing their chosen careers, they came to the campus from Miami, Fla., last February to begin preparing for new professions.

After a year of academic training—including summer school—they expect to become teachers or library workers in this country.

The Cubans say they are happy and grateful for another chance at a career. The group—which with families numbers 76—keeps one common thought, to return some day to Cuba.

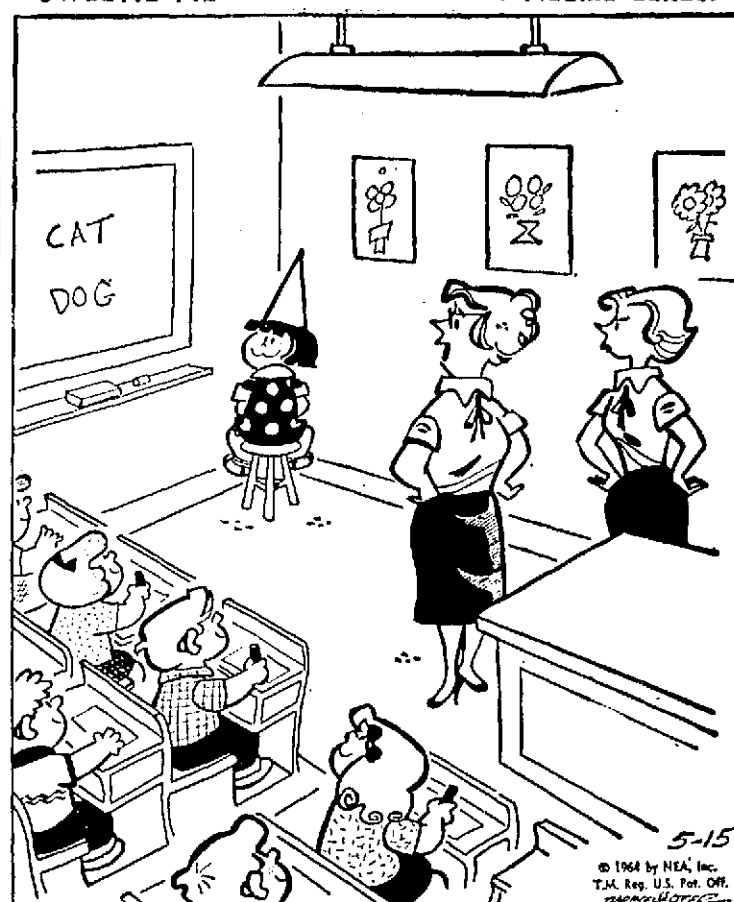

Mata and Jose Amaro, both working for temporary teacher certificates, were observers be-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Creative people—artistic people—in television are as obsolete as buggy horses." "And now that it is being flooded with second-rate stuff, the people responsible are going to kill it the way the big studios killed movies with all the Grade B and C stuff."

Hirson is one of the comparative handful of major writing and directing talents that produced some of TV's most memorable moments, almost all of whom have quit the medium in favor of Broadway or Hollywood—Paddy Chayevsky, Tad Mosel, Horton Foote, Fred Coe and a few others. Hirson, with a Broadway show now in the works, has not written a television show for almost a year and one-half. This Sunday, however, his "Don't Go Upstairs," will be broadcast by NBC's "Show of the Week."

Hirson, who has had plenty of offers, flatly refuses to write scripts for the dramatic series, even the superior ones.

"I think that I, personally, must not use characters like Dr. Kildare and the Prestons of 'The Defenders,' because it involves hewing to a format. Of course, it is possible to write moving cliché stories—it is always sure-fire when you start off with a man who is going to die."

"But I believe that drama involves taking the principal character—your hero—on an emotional trip that changes him. Television series are not person-

Bomb Threats at the University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—About 100 students were evacuated from the University of Arkansas library here Wednesday night after a telephoned bomb threat.

It was the second threat of the day. The call came at 6:46 p.m. to the university heating plant, through the university operation. It said the bomb would explode at 7:46 p.m.

Police Chief Hollis Spencer said the caller was a male whose voice sounded about college age.

The earlier call came at 9:15 a.m. drama. Lawrence Preston never changes; nothing happens to him. Things happen always to some secondary, temporary character who disappears. But the heroes ride in on the white horse and ride out on the same white horse. Audiences know this and it keeps the audience from becoming involved—and they are never surprised. And they love to be surprised. But that is why television today is essentially anti-drama."

In fact, Hirson continued almost every television dramatic show today is "really a Western in another setting."

Hirson, a New Yorker, was an English major at Yale, worked as a newspaper reporter and—by writing at night—got into television in 1954. Among his shows were "The Weston Strain" on Studio One, "Journey to the Day" and "The Long March" on Playhouse 90 and "The Outpost," on "Show of the Week."

PREPARE FOR SHOCK—In front of Joan Solley is a plastic bag that could protect her if her plane has a hard landing or crashes. The transparent bag, which inflates in two sections, would be activated by a switch in the pilot's cabin prior to impact. The bag would absorb the shock, keeping the person from slamming into the back of the seat ahead. It is called Air-stop and is under study by the Flight Safety Foundation at Phoenix, Ariz.

a.m., warning of a bomb scheduled to explode at 9:30 p.m. in the business administration building. More than 100 people were evacuated from the building.

Police and firemen searched both buildings. No bombs were found.

Similar calls have been placed to the airport here, the high school and a junior high school. Spencer said the calls were pulling firemen and policemen into positions where it would be difficult to cope with a real emergency, if one arose at the same time.

During the Chinese Empire, fingernails worn several inches long and covered with gold castles were a symbol of the aristocracy who did not have to work with their hands.

Cold Front Will Dissipate Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front that brought cool air and clear skies to Arkansas is expected to dissipate today and Friday as a warming trend sets in.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says clear to partly cloudy skies will continue over the state into Saturday, with the temperatures a few degrees higher each day. No rain is expected until early next week.

Overnight low readings ranged from 42 at Fayetteville to 56 in the Memphis-West Memphis area. Maximum readings Wednesday were from 66 at Walnut Ridge to 80 at Pine Bluff.

High readings from the mid 70s to mid 80s were forecast for Friday, with overnight low marks mostly in the 50s.

Everyone Stopped Got a Cigar

MISSION, Kan. (AP)—Every-one Patrolman Jerry Pike stopped for a minor traffic violation got a cigar.

He and his wife had wanted a baby for 13 years, and Mrs. Pike gave birth Thursday to a 6-pound, 13-ounce son—Douglas Anthony Pike.

"Mother and baby are doing fine, and dad is flying," Pike reported.

Manassas, Va., site of the Civil War engagements of Bull Run, is only 25 miles southwest of the U.S. capital.

World News

PANAMA (AP)—Handbills circulated in Panama City Wednesday night charging fraud in the presidential election and calling for a general strike.

The unsigned leaflets reported a charge by supporters of ex-President Arnulfo Arias that returns had been rigged in Sunday's vote to elect government candidate Marco Robles.

The National Electoral Tribunal announced Wednesday night that final returns gave Robles 134,627 votes and Arias 123,186.

There was no public response Wednesday night to the anonymous strike call. The National Guard remained on the alert and searched cars of Arias supporters, apparently for arms.

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev proposed today that Japan and the Soviet Union join in calling on all nuclear nations to stop underground nuclear tests immediately.

The proposal was made in a letter delivered to Premier Hayato Ikeda by Soviet First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan shortly after his arrival for a 14-day visit.

Khrushchev pointed out that international tensions have slackened with the limited nuclear test ban, the U.S.-Soviet agreement not to shoot nuclear weapons into orbit, and the recent decision by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain to reduce production of nuclear materials for armaments.

MOSCOW (AP)—The government newspaper Izvestia criticized Soviet factories Wednesday night for putting so many of their products in unattractive wrappings.

For example:

1. Candy in wrappers showing two chickens fighting over a worm.
2. Wrist watches in boxes with decorations similar to those on insect powder containers.

"To sell under conditions of shortages is easy," said Izvestia, "but now we have more and more goods and it is clear to us that selling today is not a simple business."

Wants Action on Expressway 65

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The Pine Bluff Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday it would send petitions to Gov. Orval E. Faubus asking for immediate action on the proposed U.S. 65 expressway.

W. H. Kennedy Jr., chamber president, said Pine Bluff could not raise the $2.3 million the state Highway Commission says the city must provide for right-of-way.

The petitions say the commission should act on the expressway, which has been under study, because:

—A high traffic volume creates a bottleneck for users on U.S. 65, U.S. 79, U.S. 270, Arkansas 81 and Arkansas 15.

—Hazardous conditions of traffic congestion exist in and near the city.

—Construction costs are increasing.

—Pine Bluff is the geographic gateway to Southeast Arkansas.

The proposed expressway would leave U.S. 65, which goes through Pine Bluff, northwest of the city, cross U.S. 270 west of here, cross the northern edge of the city, and rejoin U.S. 65 southeast of here.

Quachita Favors Rockefeller

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Republican Winthrop Rockefeller polled 551 votes to 98 for Gov. Orval E. Faubus in a mock gubernatorial election this week at Quachita Baptist College.

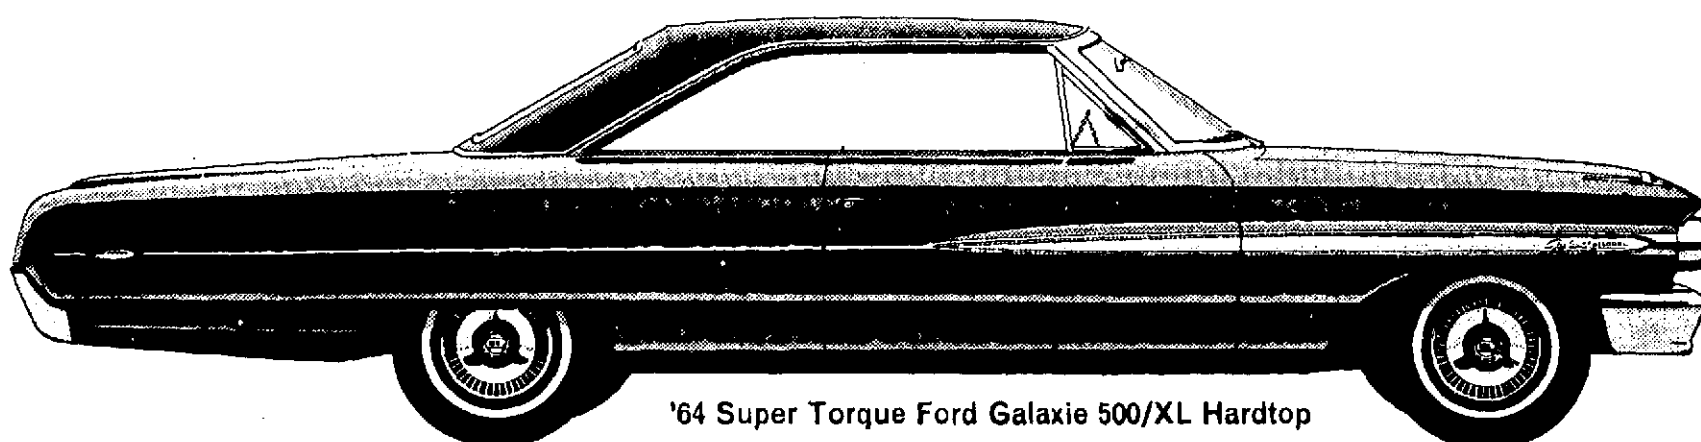

The two men, who are expected to oppose each other in the November general election, were the only ones on the ballot prepared by the Quachita Young Republican Club.
